President to Take Tax Cut Before Nation

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy goes before the nation tonight to try to stir up strong tide of support for his 11-billion tax reduction program.

The bill is awaiting a vote in the House. But the Senate is expected to provide the toughest hazard, with opposition running strong and a possibility the bill could be lost in a filibuster over civil rights legislation.

In advance of Kennedy's 7 p.m. EDT speech over all the national radio and television networks, Republicans in Congress demanded a dollars-and-cents pledge of spending control.

"We are tired of listening to these generalists," said Rep. John W. Byrns of Wisconsin, the chief Republican tax spokesman.

Although the House is not expected to vote on the tax cut until a week from today, preliminary parliamentary maneuverings were under way as Republicans and some Democrats sought an opening to tie a spending limitation to the bill.

The House Rules Committee called a meeting to decide under what procedures the measure will be brought to the floor next Tuesday.

Kennedy is expected to renew the argument his administration has been making—that spending will be rigidly controlled and is in fact leveling off, and that next year's budget deficit will be smaller than this year's.

The administration position is that the proposed tax cut, which would be effective in two stages—Jan. 1 and a year later—will stimulate business, thus increasing tax revenues and eventually balancing the budget.

Many congressional observers also expect the President specifically to recognize a declaration written into the bill calling for economy and use of additional revenues to reduce the public debt.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, who drafted that section, has said it is intended to mean a choice of tax reduction, and not big government spending, as a means of building the U.S. economy—"And we want it understood that we do not intend to try to go along both roads at the same time."

Republicans contended such expressions of sentiment by the executive or the Democratic majority were not enough.

Angry Over Another Poor Red Harvest, Khrushchev Takes Soviet Farmers to Task

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—Angry over another poor harvest, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has berated farmers for inefficiency and assailed bureaucrats for exporting fertilizer when it is needed for Soviet fields.

"We export mineral fertilizers because our economists haven't learned yet to calculate realistically what this costs," he told a farm meeting in Volgograd—formerly Stalingrad.

"If they calculated, then they would see that it would be better to put a ton of these fertilizers in the earth. It would be more economical to export the grain received than mineral fertilizers. And only after we have fully satisfied our domestic needs for mineral fertilizers can we then export them."

Khrushchev spoke Monday, the day Canada signed a $500-million deal to sell 218 million bushels of wheat to the Soviet Union. The Soviet press and radio have not told the Russian people about the wheat deal, made necessary by the failures of Soviet agriculture.

Fertilizer always has been short because much of the Soviet economy is devoted to heavy industry. But in his speech, published Tuesday in the Soviet press, Khrushchev said farmers often neglected to use the fertilizer they have.

Khrushchev said fields in Yugoslavia, where he recently visited, produce higher grain yields than Soviet fields because of the use of fertilizer.

Khrushchev clearly was in a sour mood when he addressed the farmers. When one asked for additional irrigation pipes, he snapped: "I didn't come to you from the supply section. Pipe is not the question we ought to be occupying ourselves with now."

Mrs. Kennedy to Visit Greece

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy will make a private visit to Greece for two weeks in October, the White House announced today.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Pamela Turnure, said Mrs. Kennedy will leave Washington Oct. 2 to join her sister and brother-in-law, Prince and Princess Stanislas Radziwill, who have rented a house near Athens.

The First Lady will travel by a commercial airline, Miss Turnure said.

Mrs. Kennedy, who is recuperating after the birth and death of her third child, is now at Newport, R.I., with her two children, Caroline and John Jr.

She had spent the summer on Cape Cod in Massachusetts. On Aug. 7 she gave birth prematurely to a son who lived less than two days.

Services Today for Victims of Bombing

By HOY THARWELL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—They hold the funeral today for three victims of a church bombing—and already memorial services for the four Negro girls killed by the explosion are being organized over the country.

The funeral for one of the girls Carole Rosamond Robertson, 14, was held Tuesday with hundreds of persons, some white, paying silent tribute before she was buried in the red clay beneath cedar trees.

National Negro leaders, including Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were en route to join in tribute to Denise McNair, 11, and Addie Mae Collins and Cynthia Wesley, both 14.

In Congress, a resolution asked President Kennedy to set aside next Sunday—the 101st anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation—an announcement as a day of mourning for the four girls.

The Congress of Racial Equality in New York asked 100 of its chapters to observe mourning Sunday, and the 10 chairman of Continued on Page Two

Shelter Aid Bill Heads for Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The $190 million program of federal aid and government construction to provide fallout shelters for 11 million Americans heads today for the Senate, with Civil Defense officials voicing cautious optimism about its chances there.

The Kennedy administration measure won House approval Tuesday with surprising ease. Its staunchest supporters had forecast an uphill struggle to get the bill through the House.

Administration officials said the Senate in the past has been more sympathetic to Civil Defense measures than has the House.

"We've got a nucleus of support there," one official said.

Before it passed the bill on a voice vote, the House turned down a bid by Republicans to erase a section offering $175 million worth of federal aid for shelter construction in public and nonprofit institutions.

That, sponsored by Rep. Edgar F. Foreman, R-Tex., was turned down on a 172-67 standing vote.

Cites Importance of School Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Education Commissioner Arch Ford said Tuesday that a Maryland lawsuit designed to determine whether public money can go to private schools probably is the most important litigation affecting education since the school desegregation suits a decade ago.

Ford made the observation in a talk to a group of school superintendents who were in Little Rock to review the mechanics of obtaining federal impact aid.

The Maryland suit was filed in an effort to prevent use of state tax money for Roman Catholic, Methodist and Church of Christ colleges in Maryland.

Few Comments From Letters People Would Like to Get, But They Very Rarely Do

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fragments from letters people would like to get—but rarely do:

"For some reason, dad, ever since I married the dean's daughter all my professors are giving me better grades, and it now looks like I'll make Phi Beta Kappa for sure. The dean also managed to wangle me a $3,000 scholarship, so you can discontinue sending me my allowance, as I really don't need it any more."

"It's a mystery to me why my secretary sent you a bill for $513 for your new dental plate. Actually she got the figures backward. The amount should be $315, but I feel so embarrassed over the error, I'm going to knock off another $100 and make it a flat $215. But there's no rush. Send me your check whenever it's convenient."

"You don't know me, but I'm Rudolf Bing, and I manage the Metropolitan Opera. While out for a stroll the other evening I passed beneath your apartment, and couldn't help overhearing the bawling out your wife was giving you. We haven't had a dramatic soprano voice like hers in our company for years. If your wife would care to audition for us, I'm sure we could reach contract terms agreeable to all concerned."

"While cruising in the waters off Hyannis Port recently, JFK couldn't help but admire the skilled way in which you handled the small sloop you'd rented for the day. He has been having some trouble with his spinnafore lately, and wonders if you could give him a few sailing lessons on your convenience. Naturally, we'd like to keep this private. You know how Republicans like to gossip."

"The years have done poorly by me since our high school mates picked you as class dunces and succeeded. But the post as custodian at City Hall is going to open up

Indonesians Burn British Embassy

By TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian demonstrators protesting creation of anti-Communist Malaysia looted and set fire to the British Embassy and attacked homes of embassy personnel today. The three-story embassy was left a burned out shell.

Indonesian troops were reported moving tonight to quell the rioting, the most savage in a three-day outburst of mob violence directed against the new federation Britain's backing from four former British colonies.

U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones said he received official word that the Jakarta garrison had been instructed by the government to take over responsibility for quelling the outbreak.

Jones said he had heard that the troops were ordered to points throughout the city.

The British flag was ripped from its staff, torn and burned.

Flames broke out of a third floor balcony window in the modern, three-story chancery building and spread throughout the top floor before they subsided.

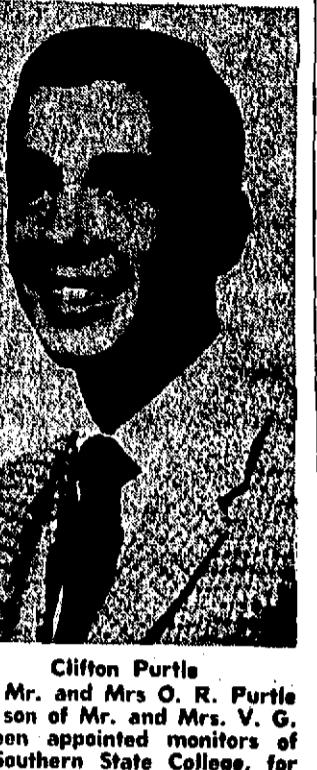

Rioters from a mob estimated at 10,000 methodically began sacking the building, tossing out papers and furniture.

Five cars were set afire—three inside the embassy compound and two outside—and the odor of burning rubber filled the air.

Monitors at Southern State

Carl McMurry

MAGNOLIA—Clifton Purdie, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Purdie of Rt. 2, Hope, and Carl McMurry of Rt. 1, Hope, have been appointed monitors of Graham Hall, men's dormitory at Southern State College, for the 1963-64 school year. Monitors are responsible for maintaining hours during study nights, enforcing quiet men. Purdie is a junior accounting major at Southern State, and McMurry is a sophomore accounting major. He is a member of Tri C, business club, and has played intramural football for Graham Hall.

She lived at Hope and Gurdon prior to moving to McAllen, Texas where she organized the first club. The group continued to grow and has become a national organization with hundreds of clubs throughout the U.S.

Mrs. Jones was better known in her work as Emma. She was very dedicated and traveled from coast to coast working with Navy Mother's clubs. She is survived by a son, James Wilburn, retired from the Navy.

Today's activities include poultry, beef, dairy, swine judging and official 4-H and FFA calves judging. At 7:30 p.m. tonight there will be the selection and crowning of the 1963 Fair Queen.

Indonesians

Lord Home summoned Indonesian Ambassador Burhanudin Mopamad Diah and demanded that the Indonesian government immediately stop "such uncivilized behavior."

In Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, the government announced it was putting the country in "a state of preparedness" because of hostility from Indonesia and the Philippines.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, pausing in Manila on a flight from Jakarta to the United Nations in New York, told newsmen "things look very difficult."

British sources said Ambassador Andrew Gilchrist and his staff were safe and unharmed. At one time about 20 armed troopers with bared bayonets concentrated on collecting a dozen of the British Embassy personnel and rushed them to a corner of the compound as the mob swept by.

The Federation of Malaysia is a union of four former British colonies — Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak, and North Borneo.

President Sukarno of Indonesia, who is believed to have designs on Malaysia's Borneo states, has denounced the new nation as a British plot to prolong colonialism and encircle Indonesia.

last month's march on Washington asked all Americans to do the same.

Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, was to be joined at the afternoon funeral by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Bayard Rustin, deputy director of the Washington march; Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, and others prominent in the integration fight.

In Washington, assistant Senate majority leader Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and other senators asked the President to proclaim Sunday "day of national observance in memory of these children and a day of rededication in this nation to the principles of law, equality and tolerance."

Humphrey said Southern leaders—what he called "the Southern establishment"—have a calculated policy of enforcing inequality and segregation on Negroes to further their own economic interest.

The Alabama congressional delegation said in a statement that the church bombing was "a heartless criminal atrocity" and "a blot on the name of our fair state."

The four girls were killed Sunday morning when a dynamite blast rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church during Sunday School. Twenty-three other persons were injured. Later in the day two Negro boys were shot to death as racial feeling here increased sharply.

There was no hint of revenge at Carole's funeral, however.

"The greatest tribute you can pay to Carole is to be calm, be lovely, be kind, be innocent," one minister told the congregation.

"For we know that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord," said another, the pastor of the bombed church.

scribes racial injustice as the most serious problem facing the nation and that calls upon the city's residents to "take an active part in solving this moral evil."

The letter was prepared by Most. Rev. Albert L. Fletcher, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Little Rock; Rabbi Ira E. Sanders of Temple B'Nai Israel; Bishop John D. Bright of the AME Church of Arkansas; and Dr. Kenneth L. Teegarden, president of the Arkansas Council of Churches.

The other points of the plan urge congregations to declare a "clear policy" that race shall play no part in the "inner life" of the church; to develop programs to contribute to the increase of "love and justice in this community's racial relationships"; and to examine practices to determine that they do not contribute to discrimination or racial segregation.

Some 200 persons attended the meeting of the conference at Philander Smith College in Little Rock. They heard speeches held small group discussions of religion and race, and made written recommendations for action. The recommendations will be reported at a future meeting of the conference.

PAMPERED STEPSON MENACES MARRIAGE

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: For a year my wife and I have been living apart, with or respective minor children from previous marriages. This has been our second, and longest, separation in eight years of marriage, each incident occasioned by meddlesome and dangerously brutal treatment of one or the other of my children by her over-indulged teen-age older son.

One has required clinical treatment for emotional disturbance, the result of abuse and rejection meted out by my wife and demanded by her son and must now be boarded in a school for the emotionally retarded.

My wife and stepson are both capable and could live useful lives if less dedicated to themselves. She brands anyone who reveals anything uncomplimentary about him as a "lair." Her solution is to enjoy our marriage on a catch-as-catch-can basis. My children need and deserve a mother's care. While she is certainly deficient in maternal instinct, it is not necessarily her fault, and she is naturally a jolly, progressive-minded person, but unfortunately immersed in the worship of a son who shows a marked lack of principle. Even his own blood brothers call him the "Bully" and the "Chiselet." —Despairing

Dear Despairing: You describe your wife as "capable," "jolly," and progressive-minded" — all admirable traits, yet make some turned this weekend from the Hawaiian Islands where they have been visiting Capt. and Mrs. Frank N. Horton and family.

Dodgers Shut Door on Cards With Koufax

By MIKE RATHETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

With only 87 pitches, spindled southpaw Sandy Koufax has made the St. Louis Cardinals as much of a long-shot as Gen. Custer.

Making their last stand in a vital three-game series with the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, the Cardinals lost for the second night in a row Tuesday as Koufax spun a four-hit, 4-0 shutout and posted a record-setting 11th shutout.

The loss, only the third in the last 22 games for St. Louis, left the Cardinals three games back—four in the all-important loss column. Including the finale of the series tonight, the Cardinals have only eight games remaining to 10 for the Dodgers.

While leaving the Cardinals with only a long-shot chance of overtaking the Dodgers, Koufax also made the night a personal triumph by becoming the first left-hander in major league history to post 11 shutouts, and the most prolific shutout pitcher since 1916.

Koufax, who has a 24-5 record, broke the shutout mark for left-handers set by Carl Hubbell, who pitched 10 for the 1933 New York Giants. Koufax' 11th was the most by any pitcher since Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched 16 for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1916.

While the Cardinals and Dodgers were playing the big one, San Francisco clubbed Milwaukee 11-3. Philadelphia downed the New York Mets 8-6. Cincinnati edged Houston 4-3 and Chicago and Cleveland edged the American League champion New York Yankees 3-2 in 10 innings; the Chicago White Sox defeated Boston 2-1. Minnesota downed Detroit 3-1 and Kansas City nipped Washington 4-3 in 10 innings. The Washington at Los Angeles twi-nighter was rained out.

Pittsburgh split. The cubs took the center of a twi-nighter 3-1, the Pirates the nightcap 4-3.

The fireballing Koufax, the fleet Maury Wills and the towering Frank Howard all played key roles in the Dodgers' victory.

Koufax was the key man. He had a no-hitter until Stan Musial, the Cardinals' 42-year-old grandpa, lined a single to center leading off the seventh, and he allowed the Cardinals two hits only in the eighth inning.

At that point, Tim McCarver and Julian Javier were on with singles, but Koufax got Dick Groat, tied for the league batting lead, to line out to Willie Davis for the inning ending out.

Wills scored the only run Koufax needed when he led off the first with a single off Curt Simmons, 15-8, stole second, raced to third on a wild pitch and scampered home on a double by Jim Gilliam.

Howard provided additional working room with a homer in the eighth following a single by Tommy Davis and the Dodgers closed out the scoring in the ninth on an infield hit by Willie Davis, his steal of second and a double by Johnny Roseboro.

Writers Pick Arkansas to Win in SWC

By TIME ASSOCIATED PRESS

The men who saw Southwest Conference football teams in action have selected Arkansas to win the championship, replacing Texas in the throne-room.

Fifteen writers who have just completed a tour of the eight training camps gave Arkansas the top spot by three votes.

Eight selected Arkansas and one picked Arkansas and Texas to tie Five selected Texans to win.

Texas Christian was third with one first place vote.

The only writer picking anybody besides Texas or Arkansas was Roy Edwards of the Dallas News, who chose Texas Christian.

Andy Morris of the Arkansas Democrat Jack Agness of the Houston Post, Joe McLaughlin of the Houston Chronicle, Bud Shrike of the Dallas News, Blackie Sherrod of the Dallas Times Herald, Burle Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Sam Payne of the Amarillo News-Globe and Charles Eskew of the Austin Statesman picked Arkansas to win.

Orville Henry of the Arkansas Gazette, Bill Van Fleet and Jim Trinkle of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Joe Heiling of the Austin American and Jim Browder of the Fort Worth Press went for Texas.

Dave Campbell of the Waco News-Tribune picked Texas and Arkansas to tie. This is the order of finish predicted: 1. Arkansas, 2. Texas, 3. Texas Christian, 4. Rice, 5. Texas A&M, 6. Baylor, 7. Southern Methodist, 8. Texas Tech.

Picks Grid Winners for Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—New stars, new coaches, new rules and new rivalries appear ahead in the new college football season. But among them is the same old trouble of picking the winners. Anyway, here are the victors in this weekend's major games:

Alabama over Georgia: No ifs, ands or buts. This likely to be the most bitterly contested game of the Southeast Conference season with Alabama's quarterback Joe Namath the hero. The 1962 version of this game got into the courts later because of a reported telephone conversation.

Washington over Air Force: If you want to see if the Coast Conference's possible champion can stop the passing of quarterback Terry Isaacson, you can find out by watching your television screen.

Texas over Tulane: They claim this is a new look Tulane team but chances are the results will be the same with Texas a relatively easy winner Friday night.

Northwestern over Missouri: The Wildcats are the pre-season choices in the Big Ten. Missouri is a possible threat in the Big Eight. A good test for Jack Cvercko's surgically corrected knee.

Navy over West Virginia: The Middle backs are exceptional but there is a definite question about the Navy line. Could be close.

Oregon over Penn State: The edge goes to the host club because Mel Renfro will be playing before the home folks.

Oklahoma over Clemson: The 1963 Sooners are earmarked for the same greatness as the Oklahoma teams of a decade ago.

Pittsburgh over UCLA: The Panthers have double protection at quarterback in Fred Mazurek and Ken Lucas. It is a Friday night struggle.

Credits Good Pitching for Victory

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—"Good pitching will always beat good hitting," Johnny Keane said sadly but wisely after Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles overpowered his hard-hitting St. Louis club in perhaps the key game of the National League season.

"The Dodgers' pitching has been great and that's the story of this series so far," the Cardinal manager said after Koufax's four-hit 4-0 shutout victory Tuesday night. Johnny Podres stopped the Cards on three hits, 3-1, Monday after they had won 19 of 20.

Walter Alston, Los Angeles manager, had high praise for the big left-hander whose 11th shutout of the season was a major league record for lefties.

"Koufax was great—he's the greatest pitcher in the game," Alston said. "You don't shut out the Cards very often."

Stan Musial, perhaps the greatest player of his generation, had this to say about Koufax: "He's held that club together, he's the reason they're up there in first place."

Asked whether he could recall a lefty in his best season better than Koufax this year, Musial, 42, thought long and hard and could not come up with a name.

Koufax was amazed when told he had made only 87 pitches, 21 of which were balls. He struck out four, well below his average, and didn't walk a man in running his record to 24-5.

"I don't think I've ever pitched a game when I made under 100

Helena Youth Wins Award

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Gerald Jumper of Helena Central High School was named the recipient of the first Amos Alonzo Stagg Foundation football player of the year award Tuesday, but can't accept it without jeopardizing his eligibility.

Johnnie Burnett, executive secretary of the Arkansas Athletic Association, said AAA rules prohibit accepting awards morban outside agency.

The Stagg Foundation said more than 1,000 high schools, junior colleges and colleges had signed up for the program. Each school picks a player of the week and he gets a gold medallion showing the head of Coach Stagg, now 101 years old.

Jumper's award was the first under the program. He was nominated by Helena Coach Curtis Merrill after leading Helena in tackles and assists in a 20-6 season-opening loss to Clarksdale, Miss. Jumper is a defensive end and offensive halfback.

pitches," said the 27-year-old Dodger ace.

Both Alston and Keane had words of praise for losing pitcher Curt Simmons, a crafty veteran who held the Dodgers to one run until Frank Howard's eighthinning blow.

While the Dodgers, with coach Leo Durocher the ringleader, were highly confident, the Cardinals were grim-faced. It was obvious their chances were almost gone but they didn't want to admit it.

Musial put it this way: "We just have to win every game from now on."

Goldwater Tries for Some Rules

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater tried to lay down ground rules for himself and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in their longing for the Republican presidential nomination: No tooth marks.

"The Democratic strategy," Goldwater said, after Rockefeller seemed to pick on him, "is to have Republicans eat Republicans and I'll be damned if I'll follow it."

Whether it's Democratic strategy or not, President Kennedy seems inclined at this point to grin at the two rivals as if hoping they'll do exactly what Goldwater says he hopes they won't.

Their maneuvers, as they get closer to the Republican convention next summer, may be enough to split the Republican party without any help from Kennedy. In fact, if he went after either man it might help the GOP chances rather than hurt them.

Besides, as a president sure of the Democratic nomination in 1964, Kennedy is still champ while Rockefeller and Goldwater are not even challengers now since at this moment neither can be sure of his party's nomination.

But Goldwater and Rockefeller, while skipping around each other rather gingerly, have been snapping at Kennedy who so far has been content to treat them with a kind of fast brush.

His forbearance may not last indefinitely. Indeed, he indicated last week that he will go after one or both of them but choose his own time for the assault.

At his news conference last Thursday he was reminded about a Goldwater remark on Kennedy's handling of Cuba. Asked if he'd comment further "on this type of attack by Sen. Goldwater," Kennedy said: "No, no, not yet, not yet."

The president, asked about Rockefeller's criticism of Kennedy's handling of the economy, made a dead-pan joke of it.

The relationship between Rockefeller and Goldwater, now in only the very earliest stage of rivalry, should get increasingly unpleasant, if they follow the political pattern. Even now it can hardly be called jolly.

Last July Rockefeller expressed concern about "the radical right." It was after this that Goldwater expressed his distaste for cannibalism among Republicans.

"I don't spend my time worrying about conservative and too conservative," he said. "I worry about the radical left in government. We Republicans ought not to be harassing each other. We have a common political enemy, the Democrats."

This may have given Rockefeller some second thoughts. He said later this statement had not been aimed at Goldwater. Sunday, after a momentary hesitation on a television show, he said he'd rather see Goldwater than Kennedy in the White House.

Goldwater was asked last August if he'd support Rockefeller if the governor got the nomination. At first Goldwater did not answer this question directly. He said this: "I have a habit of supporting Republican presidential nominees unless they are personally obnoxious to me."

Asked then if he found Rockefeller personally obnoxious, Goldwater said no. But he said he thought the New Yorker would do the country a favor if he explained what he means by extremists or the radical right.

Finally, Goldwater said he would support Rockefeller if the governor got the nomination. He

Albania Calls for Seating of Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

— Albania formally proposed to-day that the U.N. General Assembly consider once more the seating of Red China.

The move reflected the split in the Communist bloc. In the past, the Soviet Union has taken the lead in sponsoring admission of the Peking regime. Albania has lined up with the Chinese Communists in the Moscow-Peking split.

The Albanian statement called for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists and giving all their U.N. representation, including the big power seat on the Security Council, to the Chinese Communists.

It is expected that the Soviet Union will support the Albanian demand despite the chilly attitude Moscow has taken toward Albania.

Last year the assembly defeated a Soviet resolution to admit the Chinese Communists and boot out the Nationalists. The vote was 56 to 42 with 12 abstentions. The outcome is expected to be about the same this year.

Russia Purchases Canadian Wheat

OTTAWA (AP) — The Soviet Union signed today the biggest wheat-purchase pact in Canadian history, ordering nearly $500 million worth of wheat and wheat flour for delivery in the next 10½ months.

The order is for 198 million bushels of wheat and flour equal to another 29.5 million bushels.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp and S. A. Borisov, Russia's first deputy minister for foreign trade, signed the deal as part of a new three-year trade agreement between Canada and the Soviet Union.

Fair Queen Picked

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Diane Channing, 16, a junior at Magnolia High School, was chosen Columbia County Fair Queen Monday night. She won over 32 other entrants in the opening-night contest at the fair. Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Chowning of Magnolia. said "this country can't stand another four years of Kennedy."

Goldwater and Rockefeller seem to have achieved complete harmony only in wanting Kennedy out, which is not an unusual trait among Republicans but is hardly sufficient foundation for a quiet and impersonal contest for the Republican nomination.

Production by Industry Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production declined slightly in August after advancing steadily over the past seven months, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

The index for the month was 125.6, a drop of almost a point from last month but well above the 119.4 registered in August 1962.

On the Federal Reserve's scale, 100 represents the 1957-59 average.

Construction activity and retail sales remained at record levels. Time and savings deposits at commercial banks rose sharply, the board said, although the money supply declined a little.

A continuing decline in the production of iron and steel and slight drop in the output of automobiles was enough to tip the index downward.

Production of most other items showed little change.

Extension of Tieup to Be Decided

NEW YORK (AP) — National Maritime Union officers meet today to decide whether to extend the tieup of the luxury liner America to any of 53 other United States Lines' ships.

The America, second in size only to the S.S. United States in the nation's maritime fleet, is docked here. Her regular transatlantic voyage has been canceled in a dispute over alleged racial-religious discrimination by one of her officers.

NMU President Joseph Curran said the AFL-CIO Union's national officers would decide today about further action that may be taken against U.S. Lines for "violation of our contract, which bans any form of racial or religious discrimination aboard ship."

The scheduled Saturday noon sailing of the 33,961 gross-ton liner for British and European ports was canceled when NMU crew members refused to sail with senior engineer Louis Neurohr. They accused him of discriminating against Negro, Puerto Rican and Jewish crewmen.

The NMU represents about 550 of the America's 700 crew members—some 40 per cent of whom are Negroes and Puerto Ricans. The union demanded that Neurohr be removed.

But the AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, which has been involved in an interunion skirmish with NMU, refused to accept even temporary removal of its member, Neurohr.

The MEBA, an officers' union, said the charges against the first assistant engineer were "only allegations—nobody has given us any proof." Neurohr denied the charges of discrimination.

The America's 964 passengers, most of whom stayed aboard Saturday night, Sunday sought alternate means of transportation.

Non-Farm Work Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Non-farm payroll employment climbed 107,000 to $7.6 million from July to August, the Labor Department said today. This was less than the normally expected seasonal increase.

Harold Goldstein, spokesman for a Bureau of Labor Statistics team presenting employment figures, said the slowdown mainly was due to a larger than usual model changeover layoff in the auto industry and cutbacks in the steel industry.

Auto industry employment figures dropped 136,000 from July to August as most of the major auto manufacturers halted production to switch to the 1964 model.

Goldstein said the layoff was larger than usual because 1963 has been one of the most successful auto years in history with larger than usual employment.

In addition, ABC's "Wagon Train" returns, expanded to 90 minutes and at a new day and time spot—8:30-10. NBC plans a special news show "The Loyal Opposition," with interviews with Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeler (10:10-10).

U.S. Recognizing New Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is recognizing the new state of Malaysia—which came into existence today—as the legal successor to the old Federation of Malaysia.

Officials said today that despite the territorial addition of Sarawak, North Borneo and Singapore to the Federation of Malaysia, no formal new recognition is required.

President Kennedy sent a special representative, Deputy Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson, to the ceremonies launching the Malaysia Federation at Kuala Lumpur. This in itself is recognition by Washington that the new state has come into being with the approval of the United States, officials said.

Retail Sales to Command Stage Center

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Retail sales will command the center of the stage the rest of this month and the first half of October.

How much consumers buy, and especially what they buy, will give a strong clue to the strength of the current economic upturn.

Unexpectedly high personal spending helped moderate the last recession. Revival of purchases of durable goods, particularly big ticket ones, such as household appliances, give the present upturn a new lease on life when it seemed to be faltering a year ago.

Sales have withstood the summer lull. If they show vigor with the coming of fall, merchants and dealers can count on new dollar records the rest of the year.

Manufacturers can then plan production schedules with a more helpful eye on the chances of the longest and strongest since World War II.

Auto and appliance sales have been unusually strong for several months. At the moment car sales may be turning weak, while the makers are bringing out the new models. How these catch on will be apparent next month.

Appliance sales have close ties with home building. Construction of housing units, especially apartments, has been strong this year.

Furnishing them has given a boost to appliance, furniture and similar sales.

If this continues through the fall, the industries will be content to take the usual winter season of slack construction and skimpier furnishings sales in stride.

But there is also a large re-

Goldwater, Rockefeller Pledge Aid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater both say they will support the other if one of them wins the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. Goldwater's promise was without qualification, but Rockefeller's contained some ifs.

Rockefeller said his backing would go to any GOP nominee — Goldwater included — who runs on a platform that "realistically and positively" faces current problems and future opportunities.

Goldwater said without qualification, "Yes I would," when asked if he would support Rockefeller if the New Yorker was nominated at the national convention.

Goldwater said in answer to a question he didn't know why Rockefeller was "reluctant" to make a flat statement of support.

"I haven't talked to the governor in several months, now," Goldwater said.

The two likely contenders for the GOP nomination spoke Monday night in separate interviews for a television program.

In an interview in U.S. News and World Report, Rockefeller again seemed to qualify whether he would support Goldwater if the Arizonan is the nominee.

He said it was often difficult to know where Goldwater stands because "his position on many issues have been importantly modified in recent weeks or months."

But the two did agree they would prefer any Republican in the White House to President Kennedy.

Refund Blind Man Court Orders

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled Monday that a Little Rock firm had to refund a blind man $500 he had paid down on a fallout shelter he contended was defective.

The court ruled that the Economy Swimming Pool Inc., had to refund the $500 and voided all liens against the property of the complainants, Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Freeling of Little Rock.

The action upheld a Pulaski Chancery court ruling.

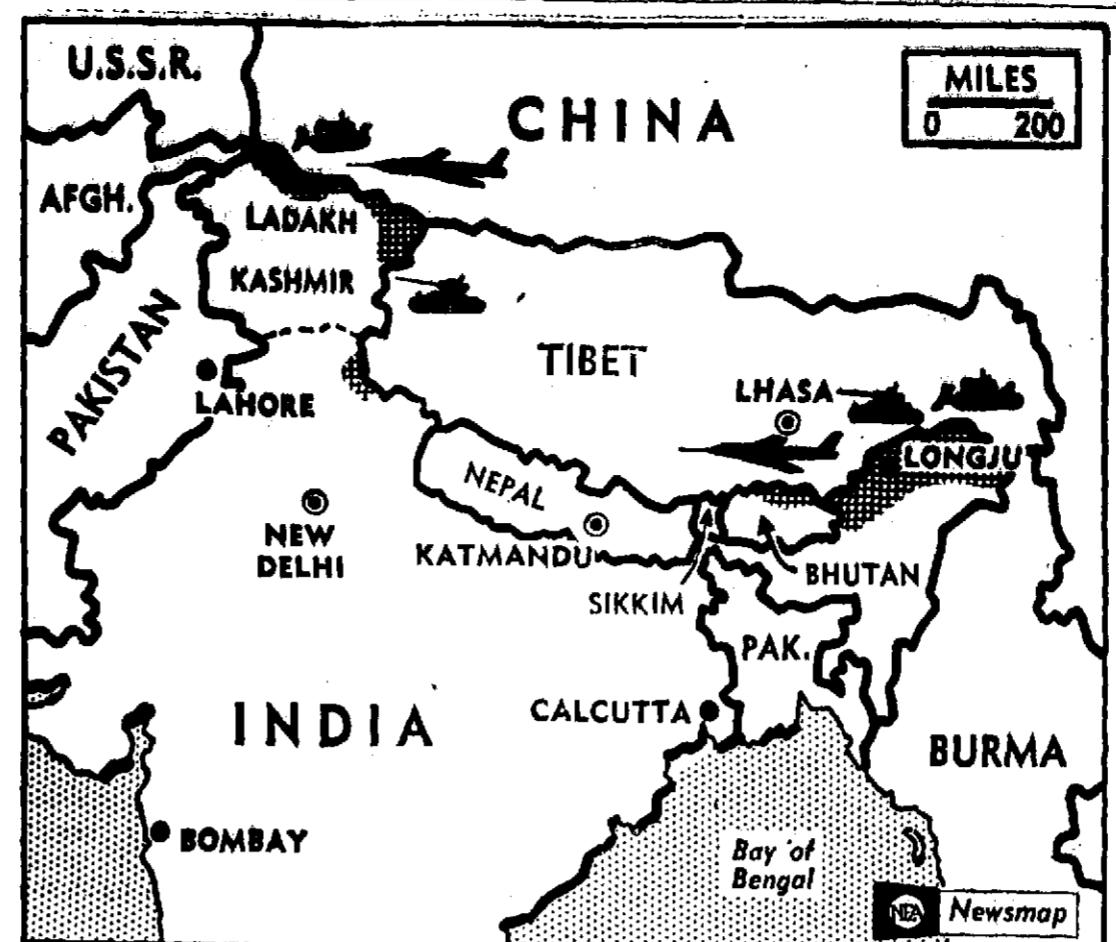

The Freelings based their contention that the shelter was faulty on testimony of a structural engineer whom they had hired.

They said the shelter had not been excavated deep enough, that the concrete was "honeycombed" or defective and that one wall had caved in.

placement market for appliances and furnishings. This too has been seeing a modest boom.

Consumers have been willing to spend, and to take on monthly payments, for new appliances or for more of them. They apparently have been confident present good times were here to stay for a time.

Economists will watch this market closely. When consumers start to retrench one of their first targets is in such big ticket items.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE? — Newsmap shows the India-Red China border, which was the scene of fierce fighting in October 1962 after a surprise Chinese attack. (Crosshatched areas are those in dispute.) The war ended abruptly when China proclaimed a cease-fire and withdrew from its forward points. Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru now claims that the Chinese are massing along the border in even greater strength. Nehru and roads and are laying underground telephone lines and building interconnecting subterranean trenches along the border to support a possible renewed attack.

Horror Show Makes Debut on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been obvious for some time that evening television lacks one type of entertainment program. Well, we got it Monday night—a horror show.

The program was the first of a new series, "The Outer Limits," heralded as science fiction and complete with a monster—a chrome-plated three-fingered thing from a distant planet somehow pulled down by radio beams to Earth.

It was very reminiscent of those jolly old scary movies—but with modern refinements. The creature from outer space lumbered around like a Frankenstein monster. It was preceded by gale winds. It dispatched enemies with electrical charges. He spoke and understood English, monster style.

Because the series comes at an early evening hour (7:30-8:30 EDT), it apparently is aimed at a youthful audience. It's the sort of nonsense that is likely to be boring to the post-21 viewers.

"Breaking Point," a new dramatic series dealing with people in need of psychiatric help, took over the ABC channel for a late evening hour (10-11 EDT).

The program seemed clinical, unnecessarily painful and failed to prove anything very much.

But, apparently, there's a large and eager audience for this type of diversion.

The NIGHT, The WOMAN

THE STORY: Valerie Hayward is talking to her lawyer Blake Carden regarding the settling of her husband's estate. She's impatient at the delay.

Jean was right; this related to Val. Alec Hayward's only surviving blood relatives were an unmarried brother and a married sister living near each other in San Francisco. Blake had written to them suggesting that since the estate was so small they might be willing to relinquish their shares, each one third, to Alec's widow. They were well off and could easily afford this small compassionate gesture. This reply had been slow in coming. Finally the brother was answering for both: flatly no.

Blake groaned inwardly, commiserating with Val. She was certainly getting the wringer today.

She turned her back, stabbing her spike heels across to the door and banged out.

Do they think I'll sit still and let myself be swindled when I'm already broke? Well, I won't.

Her voice was rising on a note of fury. "Blake I'm going to get what's rightfully mine, I promise you I'm going to have what belongs to me, every last cent!"

Now she was shrill. "Or I'll pull the roof down!"

She turned her back, stabbing her spike heels across to the door and banged out.

Blake sat frowning at the door, telling himself that no part of Val's predicament justified such a threat. Alec's brother and sister had taken a selfish position, and possibly a morally weak one, but to accuse them of swindling her was wide of the mark; and in any case she had no recourse.

The Mannings had had an honest and permissible change of mind.

As for himself, Blake knew that Val trusted him, both personally and as the administrator of her husband's estate. Who, then, was swindling her? Nobody, so far as Blake knew. The more he thought of it, the more pointless Val's outburst seemed, except as an explosive release of tensions.

"Thank you, Blake; that's sweet. But I saw the printing. It's from Earl Hayward. And you don't need to tell me what it says."

Val had stiffened to her feet, her face tightening with rage.

"Alec hadn't seen either of them in eight years. They didn't write to him. He didn't even like them. They couldn't be bothered to come to his funeral. They don't need this loot, yet they're perfectly willing to grab it off and leave me with one third of practically nothing!"

Blake gave her a regretful look but no other answer. They were within their legal rights, and the original fault had been Alec's; but there was no use reminding her of that.

"What do people expect of me?"

He looked at his desk clock. Val had dropped in without an appointment and fortunately he had no others. He remembered Todd's urgency on the phone. Todd's saying, "I'll try to get home early."

Reaching into the drawer of his desk where he kept his professional stationery, he took up an envelope; then, on second thought, he put it back. He went to the door, swung it open and spoke across the corridor to Jean. "Do we have a plain envelope?"

She looked at him from her desk in a way that struck him as curious, because it wasn't quite like her — embarrassed and a little constrained. She answered quickly, as if protecting him from a hazard he didn't know: "Yes. I'll bring one."

She left the envelope on his blotter and lingered, gazing at him searching.

"What did you do to her?"

"Val's having a run of bad breaks, and she's looking for somebody to take it out on."

"She screeched, didn't she? Really screeched. We all heard that last. What did she mean, about pulling the roof down?"

"I have no idea. I doubt that she meant anything in particular.

When Val's temper lets go, she makes meaningless noises. Loud, but meaningless."

Closing the Hayward folder, he paused, cocking a surprised glance at Jean.

"We all? You and Vera and who else? Somebody waiting?"

"A detective. His name's Barcello."

"Lee?" Blake had dealt with Lee Barcello several times professionally, and liked him personally. Those conferences had occurred in the County Building in St. Pete. Since this was the first time Barcello had sought Blake out, it must be official business. "What does he want?"

"A few questions answered.

That's all he'd tell me."

Fulbright Involved in Argument

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., denied in the Senate today that Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., "called me a liar" Monday.

Robertson, an opponent of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, engaged in some sharp exchanges Monday with Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and leader of the ratification effort.

Today the Virginia senator read the transcript of the congressional record and added his belief that no senator had called another a liar "since dueling was abolished."

"The record clearly shows that Fulbright admitted that he endorsed the treaty before hearings were started in his committee and that was all that my constituent had charged," Robertson said, as he read the following transcript of Monday's exchange:

"Mr. Robertson: Then let me say that today I received from a lawyer a letter in which he asks whether it is the normal procedure for the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee to announce his support of the treaty before he heard one word from

Cuba Wants Visit by More Students

NEW YORK (AP) — As a federal grand jury in Brooklyn resumes its probe today of a trip by 59 American students to Cuba, the committee that sponsored the journey disclosed that Cuba has come up with a second, similar invitation.

The Student Committee for Travel to Cuba announced it will try to send 200 Americans to the Caribbean island next January.

Philip A. Luce, committee spokesman, said the invitation for American students to see Fidel Castro's regime in operation came from the Cuban Federation of University Students.

Luce said "we assume" the invitation provided for the Cuban Federation to pay all expenses, as it did for the 59 Americans who defied a State Department ban and went to Cuba for an eight-week stay this summer.

One of the 59 drowned in Cuba. When the majority of them returned to this country, their passports were invalidated.

anyone about it—while he was in Moscow.

"Mr. Robertson: Then I will write him that the senator says it is a lie.

"Mr. Fulbright: The senator can tell him it is a lie. The record shows what happened. Before then, I had seen this treaty. It was brought before our committee before it was even initiated. The senator from Virginia says he has received a letter in which it is said that I announced my approval of the treaty before I had seen it; but such a statement is nonsense.

"Mr. Robertson: I will write to him that that is what the senator from Arkansas says.

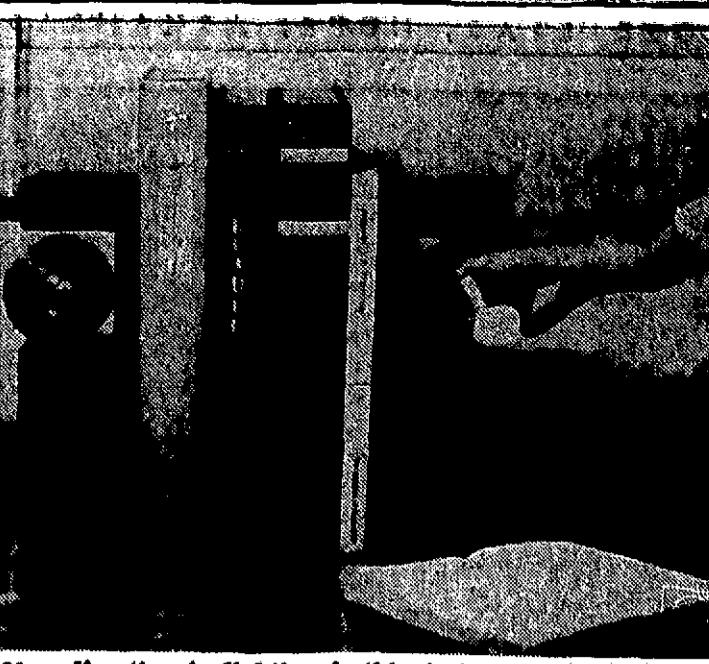

"Mr. Fulbright: The record shows what I said. Such a statement is not true. Not only did I see it, but a majority of the members of the committee saw the treaty before it was initiated. We were consulted at considerable length about it.

"Mr. Robertson: I did not say the senator from Arkansas did not see the treaty. The letter states that the senator announced his support of it before he started the hearings. Is that true or not?

"Mr. Fulbright: That is true. This is a good treaty.

"Mr. Robertson: Then the one who wrote the letter did not lie, did he?

"Mr. Fulbright: But the statement to which the senator referred was that I had approved the treaty before I had even seen it.

Tiny Quints Seem to Be Doing Fine

By DAN PERKES
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets went into their fourth day today, breathing easily and reported good color on all of them.

Dr. James Berbos, who brought the four girls and a boy into the world between 1 and 3 a.m. Saturday, had termed the first 72 hours crucial. He left St. Luke's Hospital shortly before midnight, apparently satisfied his charges were doing well.

But he warned that the premature quints born to Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer, 30, still could have hurdles, saying, "There's no magic number for any danger period. It just depends on their day-to-day condition."

The quints took their first formula Monday—about a teaspoon of artificial milk every two hours—and were reported to be assimilating it well.

At the same time, the babies got their full names and an array of gifts informally assessed at more than $35,000.

Their mother had her first meeting with newsmen since the births, and told three photographers Monday night, "I feel fine."

The photographers, permitted in her room only 10 minutes to shoot still pictures, television tape and movie film on a pool basis, reported Mrs. Fischer very cheerful.

Mrs. Fischer and her husband, Andrew, 38, made the final decision on names for the four girls

Evidence in Fondling Case Ruled Void

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled evidence against a 36-year-old Greene County man accused of fondling a child was inadmissible and pre-judicial and overturned his conviction Monday.

The decision reversed the conviction of William D. Ward in Greene County Circuit court and freed him from a three-year prison term.

Associate Justice Paul Ward, who wrote the opinion, said testimony to one incident involving Ward occurred four or five years before the offense for which he was being tried and had nothing to do with the case at hand.

Justice Sam Robinson, in the dissenting opinion, said the reversal was a "most serious error."

Johnson wrote, "Those committing crimes through the commission of unnatural sex acts are perhaps the most dangerous of criminals." He said sometimes such persons kill to avoid disclosure of their crimes.

The court remanded the case to Greene County for a new trial.

The high court also affirmed a Johnson Chancery Court ruling on a suit challenging certain expenditures made by the Clarksville light and water commissioners from surplus funds.

The court directed that future expenditures by the commissioners must have approval of the city council, but refused to enjoin them from making such expenditures or from calling back those already made.

AEA Sets Up Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Education Association has approved establishment of a professional practices body and authorized its executive committee to develop plans for its organization. Purpose of the body would be to promote high standards in the teaching profession and protect AEA members personal and professional rights. The AEA will hold its annual convention Nov. 8-9 at Little Rock with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., as principal speaker.

Monday night.

They will be called Mary Ann, Mary Catherine, Mary Margaret and Mary Magdalene. The lone boy had been named James Andrew earlier.

Mary Ann is named after her mother; Mary Catherine is named for Sister Mary Stephen, the St. Luke's Hospital administrator who was Catherine Davis before she became a nun; Mary Margaret is named for Margaret Dorman, chief nurse in pediatrics at St. Luke's; and Mary Magdalene is named for her paternal grandmother.

The quints were deluged with gifts, ranging from diaper service to college scholarships.

The offers included a four-year scholarship for James Andrew to St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia, scholarships to all five at Northern State College here, and scholarships for all four girls to two girls' schools, Presentation Junior College here and Mount Mary College at Yankton, S.D. The latter two are operated by orders of Catholic nuns.

The Fishers also faced a decision on whether to move to a different home when things settle down.

Their landlords, Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Harrington, offered to give the family the house now occupied or land for a new home. The Chamber of Commerce promised either to build the Fishers a new home or buy them one. There also was an offer of free labor to build a new home.

Others gave new kitchen and laundry facilities for a new house, free landscaping and free moving service.

The babies received insurance policies, stock certificates and every item of clothing and baby accessories possible.

Mrs. Fischer is expected to go home the latter part of the week, but the babies won't get out of their incubators for another five to seven weeks.

News of the Day in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PRODUCTION, JOBS: After a steady seven-month climb, industrial production dipped slightly in August, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

And on the jobs side, the Labor Department noted a less-than-expected increase in non-farm employment from July to August, edging up 107,000 to 57.6 million.

The industrial production index for August was 125.6, a drop of almost one point from July. Yet the figure was well above the 119.4 registered last August.

The board—which used 100 to denote the 1957-59 average—planned the drop on a continuing decline in iron and steel production and a slight decrease in automobile production.

RECOGNIZED: U.S. recognition of the new state of Malaya was automatic.

The United States treated the new-born state as the legal successor to the old Federation of Malaya. Thus nothing more was called for officially, U.S. officials said Monday.

Also, President Kennedy sent a special representative, Deputy Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson, to ceremonies at Kuala Lumpur launching the federation which came into existence Monday. This in itself is recognition that the new state meets with U.S. approval, officials said.

MENTAL RETARDATION: The White House announced today the nation's leaders in mental retardation programs, including more than 225 delegates chosen by the state governors, will attend a two-day conference on mental retardation beginning Thursday at Warrenton, Va.

The objectives of the White House conference, according to the announcement, will be "to explain federal mental retardation programs, to stimulate statewide planning for mental retardation programs, and to encourage inter-agency cooperation."

Savings with GAS

can help you pay off your mortgage ahead of time!

By using low-cost, dependable gas instead of high-cost, hot-wire electricity, you can save over $6,000 in 30 years — the length of many home mortgages!

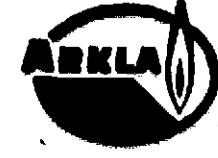

With that much savings, you could easily pay off your mortgage ahead of time!

Sound fantastic? It isn't. In an ALL-GAS home, on current Little Rock rates, the average gas bill is $9.15 less every month than the electric bill in a "hot-wire" home...That's $109.80 savings with gas in a year!

Savings of $109.80 yearly, invested at 4% for 30 years, would amount to a whopping $6,261.63!

Live in luxury at lower cost — Switch to Gas, and save money every month!

NOTE: Figures are based on homes using gas and electricity for air conditioning, cooking, water heating, clothes drying and basic miscellaneous electricity usage.
